Code Backpack

Simplicity. Functionality. Inspired, contemporary design. These are the guiding principles that define the Code collection. The backpack of the collection is the perfect choice for anyone wanting to comfortably transport their notebook without renouncing on style. The bags of the Code collection are made of polyester canvas fabric and have real leather details. Code backpack is designed to fit Apple Macbooks but also other notebooks will fit.

The padded notebook compartment provides tailored protection for your notebook. This thanks to the adjustable flap that lets you modify the size of the compartment to fit perfectly with your device. In the large main compartment there is a tablet pocked with room for tablets up to 10 inch. There are also two smaller compartments with space for charger and accessories. On the front there is a zippered pocket with a workstation with compartments for pens, mobile phone etc. The closing flap of the backpack is secured with a buckle to make sure it stays in place. For when the rain is pouring the backpack is equipped with a rain cover that is stored in a hidden pocket on the back of the bag. Just pull it out and put it over the bag and your belongings are safely protected from moist. The adjustable shoulder straps are padded and have breathable mesh for extra comfort.
