

SLEEVES

Notebook sleeves are a practical addition to your bag. Their purpose is to protect your device effectively from scratches, impacts and any other damage. Their lightweight construction means they are flexible and ideal for carrying short distances. When placed inside a larger bag, they also act as an additional shock-absorbing layer, significantly increasing protection. DICOTA offers a wide range of products for different requirements, from minimalist basic protection to versions with additional compartments for accessories. Choosing one is easy, because there is a suitable solution for every device and every style.
